Yes. There is nothing preventing a maternity home from being reimbursed for services provided to non-residential clients, which I would consider a transitioning client to be.

Hi Emily,

When a client is transitioning out of residential services into her own apartment/home, and the client is still eligible for A2A assistance, can that maternity home be reimbursed for providing her assistance with any necessary supplies such as a pack'n play for baby, deposit to secure an apartment, first month's rent, etc?
